Introduction

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has become a cornerstone in shaping how organizations operate, innovate, and compete. When combined with digital marketing, AI empowers companies to personalize customer experiences, optimize campaigns, and predict consumer behavior with accuracy. On the other hand, corporate governance ensures transparency, accountability, and ethical business practices that build trust with stakeholders.

This 5-day training program bridges the worlds of AI-powered digital marketing and corporate governance frameworks. It provides participants with practical insights into how organizations can leverage AI technologies for marketing growth while ensuring compliance, accountability, and long-term sustainability. Delivered by Gentex Training Center, this course offers a balanced perspective, combining technical marketing applications with governance best practices, making it a valuable experience for professionals across industries.
